YOU KISSED ME.

"You kissed me! My forehead dropped low on your breast. With a feeling of shelter and infinite rest, While the holy emotion my tongue dared not speak, Flash up like a flame from my heart to my cheek!"

"Your arms held me fast, oh! your arms were so bold! Heart beat against heart in their passionate hold; Your glances seemed drawing my soul through my eyes, As the sun draws the mist from the sea to the skies. And your lips clung to mine till I prayed in my bliss, They might never unclasp from that rapturous kiss."

I KISSED YOU.

"I kissed you, I own it, but did not suppose That you, through the papers, the deed would disclose, As free loving cats, when on ridge-poles they meet While their squalls of "You kiss me" disturb the whole street."

"I kissed you. The impulse as suddenly came As that cold-looking cloud is transformed into flame. My act was the lightning that glances and thrills, And yours the loud thunder that blabs to the hills."

Rebecca, the Drummer.

BY CHAS. BARNARD.

[A true story of the War of 1812]

It was about nine o'clock in the morning when they first appeared. At once there was great excitement in the village. It was a British war-ship. What would she do? Would she tack about in the bay to pick up stray coasters as prizes, or would she land soldiers to burn the town? In either case there would be trouble enough.

Those were sad days, those old war-times in 1812. The sight of a British war-ship in Boston Bay was not pleasant. We were poor then, and had no monitors to go out and sink the enemy or drive him off. Our navy was small, and, though we afterwards had the victory and sent the troublesome ships away, never to return, at that time they often came near enough, and the good people in Scituate Harbor were in great distress over the strange ship that had appeared at the mouth of the harbor.

It was a fishing-place in those days, and the harbor was full of smacks and boats of all kinds. The soldiers could easily enter the harbor and burn up everything, and no one could prevent them. There were men enough to make a good fight, but they were poorly armed, and had nothing but fowling-pieces and shot-guns, while the soldiers had muskets and cannon.

The tide was down during the morning, so that there was no danger for a few hours; and all the people went out on the cliffs and beaches to watch the ship and to see what would happen next.

On the end of the low, sandy spit that makes one side of the harbor, stood the little white tower known as Scituate Light. In the house behind the light lived the keeper's family, consisting of himself, wife, and several boys and girls. At the time the ship appeared the keeper was away, and there was no one at home save Mrs. Bates, the eldest daughter, Rebecca, about fourteen years old, two of the little boys, and a young girl named Sarah Winsor, who was visiting Rebecca.

Rebecca had been the first to discover the ship, while she was up in the lighthouse tower polishing the reflector. She at once descended the steep stairs and sent off the boys to the village to give the alarm.

For an hour or two the ship tacked and stood off to sea, then tacked again and made for the shore. Men, women and children watched her with anxious interest. Then the tide turned and began to flow into the harbor. The boats aground on the flats floated, and these in deep water swung round at their moorings. Now the soldiers would probably land. If the people meant to save anything it was time to be stirring. Boats were hastily put out from the wharf, and such clothing, nets, and other valuables as could be handled were brought ashore, loaded into hay carts, and carried away.

It was of no use to resist. The soldiers, of course, were well armed, and if the people made a stand among the houses it would not prevent the enemy from destroying the shipping.

As the tide spread out over the sandy flats it filled the harbor, so that, instead of a small channel, it became a wide and beautiful bay. The day was fine, and there was a gentle breeze rippling the water, and making it sparkle in the sun. What a splendid day for fishing or sailing! Not much use to think of either while that war-ship crossed and recrossed before the harbor mouth.

About 2 o'clock the tide reached high water mark, and to the dismay of the people, the ship let go the anchor, swung her yards round, and lay quiet about half a mile from the first cliff. They were going to land to burn the town. With their spy-glasses the people could see the boats lower to take soldiers ashore.

Ah! then there was confusion and uproar. Every horse in the village was put into some kind of team, and the women and children were hurried off to the woods behind the town. The men would stay and offer as brave resistance as possible. Their guns were light and poor, but they could use the old fish-houses as a fort, and perhaps make a brave fight of it. If worse came to worse, they could at least retreat and take to the shelter of the woods.

It was a splendid sight. Five large boats, manned by sailors, and filled with soldiers in gray red coats. How their guns glittered in the sun! The oars all moved together in regular order, and the officers in their fine uniforms stood up to direct the expedition. It was a courageous company come with a war-ship and cannon to fight helpless fishermen.

So Rebecca Bates and Sarah Winsor thought, as they sat up in the lighthouse tower looking down on the procession of boats as it went past the point and entered the harbor.

"Oh! If I only were a man!" cried Rebecca.

"What could you do? See what a lot of them; and look at their guns."

"I don't care. I'd fight. I'd use father's old shot-gun—anything. Think of uncle's new boat and the sloop!"

"Yes; and all the boats."

"It's too bad; isn't it?"

"Yes; and to think we must sit here and see it all and not lift a finger to help."

"Do you think there will be a fight?"

"I don't know. Uncle and father are in the village; and they will do all they can."

"See how still it is in town. There's not a man to be seen."

"Oh, they are hiding till the soldiers get nearer. Then we'll hear the shots and the drum."

"The drum? How can they? It's here. Father brought it home to mend last night."

"Did he? Oh! then let's—"

"See, the first boat has reached the sloop. Oh! oh! they are going to burn her."

"Isn't it mean?"

"It's too bad!—too—"

"Where is that drum?"

"It's in the kitchen."

"I've a great mind to go down and beat it."

"What good would that do?"

"Scare 'em."

"They'd see it was only two girls, and they would laugh and go on burning just the same."

"No. We could hide behind the sand-hills and the bushes. Come let's—"

"Oh, look! look! the sloop's a fire!"

"Come, I can't stay here and see any more. The cowardly Britishers to burn the boats! Why don't they go up to the town and fight like—"

"Come, let's get the drum. It'll do no harm; and perhaps—"

"Well, let's. There's the fire, too; we might take that with us."

"Yes; and we'll—"

No time for further talk. Down the steep stairs of the tower rushed these two young patriots, bent on doing what they could for their country. They burst into the kitchen like a whirlwind, with rosy cheeks and flying hair. Mrs. Bates sat sorrowfully gazing out of the window at the scene of destruction going on in the harbor, and praying for her country and that the dreadful war might soon be over. She could not help. Son and husband were shouldering their poor shot-guns in the town, and there was nothing to do but to watch and wait and pray.

Not so the two girls. They meant to do something, and, in a fever of excitement, they got the drum and took the cracked life from the bureau drawer. Mrs. Bates, intent on the scene outside, did not heed them and they slipped out the back door, unnoticed.

"They must be careful or the soldiers would see them. They went round back of the house to the north and toward the outside beach, and then burned and plowed through the deep sand just above high water mark. They must keep out of sight of the boats, and of the ship also. Luckily she was anchored to the south of the light; and, as the beach curved to the west, they soon left her out of sight. Then they took to the water side, and with the drum between them, ran as fast as they could toward the main land. Presently they reached the low heaps of sand that showed where the spit joined the fields and woods.

Panting and excited they tightened up the drum and tried the life softly.

"You take the fire, Sarah, and I'll drum."

"All rite; but we musn't stand still. We must march along the shore toward the light."

"Won't they see us?"

"No; we'll walk next the water on the outside beach."

"Oh, yes; and they'll think its soldiers going down to the Point to head 'em off."

"Just so. Come, begin one, two—one two!"

Drum! drum!! drum!!!

Squeak! squeak!! squeak!!!

"For'ard—march!"

"Ha! Ha!"

"Don't laugh, You'll spoil everything, and I can't pucker my lips."

Drum! drum!! drum!!!

Squeak! squeak!! squeak!!!

The men in the town heard it and were amazed beyond measure. Had the soldiers arrived from Boston? What did it mean? Who were coming?

Louder and louder on the breeze came the roll of a sturdy drum and the sound of a brave life. The soldiers in the boats heard the noise and paused in their work of destruction. The officers ordered everybody in the greatest haste. The people were rising! They were coming down the Point with cannons to head them off! They would all be captured, and perhaps hung by the dreadful Americans!

How the drum rolled! The life changed its tune. It played "Yankee Doodle"—that horrid tune! Hark! The men were cheering in the town; there were thousands of them in the woods along the shore!

In grim silence marched the two girls—plodding over the sharp stones, splashing through the puddles—Rebecca beating the old drum with might and main, Sarah blowing the life with shrill determination.

How the Britishers scrambled into their boats! One of the brave officers was nearly left behind on the burning sloop. Another fell overboard and wet his good clothes, in his haste to escape from the American army marching down the beach—a thousand strong! How the sailors pulled! No fancy rowing now, but desperate haste to get out of the place and escape to their ship.

How the people yelled and cheered on the shore! Fifty men or more jumped into boats to prepare for the chase. Ringing shots began to crack over the water. Louder and louder rolled the terrible drum. Sharp and clear rang out the cruel life.

Nearly exhausted, half dead with fatigue, the girls toiled on—tired, laughing, ready to drop on the wet sand, and still beating and blowing with fiery courage.

The boats swept swiftly out of the harbor on the outgoing tide. The fishermen came up with the burning boats. Part stopped to put the fires out and the rest pursued the flying enemy with such shots as they could get at them. In the midst of it all, the sun went down.

The red-coats did not return a shot. They expected every minute to see a thousand men open on them at short range from the beach, and they reserved their powder.

Out of the harbor they went in confusion and dismay. The ship weighed anchor and ran out her big guns, but did not fire a shot. Darkness fell on the scene as the boats reached the ship. Then she sent a round shot toward the light. It fell short and threw a great fountain of white water into the air.

The girls saw it, and dropping their drum, and life sat down on the beach and laughed till they cried.

That night the ship sailed away. The great American army of two had arrived, and she thought it wise to retreat in time.

Rebecca is still living, old and feeble in body, but brave in spirit and strong in patriotism. She told this story to the writer, and it is true.

Diphtheria.

The Boston board of health has finally waked up enough about the diphtheria epidemic in that city, to issue the following circular: Diphtheria is contagious and infectious, and may be easily communicated, either directly or indirectly, from person to person. It may be conveyed directly in the act of kissing, coughing, spitting, sneezing; or indirectly by infected articles used, as towels, napkins, handkerchiefs, etc. The poison clings with great tenacity to rooms, houses, articles of furniture and clothing, and may occasion the disease, even after the laps of months. Diphtheria attacks all classes at all ages, and at all seasons of the year. By preference it attacks children and those who are debilitated from exposure to filth, dampness or foul air from whatever source. When a case of diphtheria occurs in any family, the sick person should be placed in a room apart from the other inmates of the house, and should be nursed, as far as possible, by one person only. The sick chamber should be well warmed, exposed to sunlight and well aired; its furniture should be such as will permit of cleansing without injury, and all extra articles, such as window and table drape, woolen carpets, upholstered furniture, and all hangings, should be removed from the room during the sickness. The physician and nurse, as a rule, should be the only persons admitted. All clothing removed from the patient or the bed should be at once placed in boiling water or in a tub of disinfecting fluid (8 oz. sulphate zinc, 1 oz. carbolic acid and 3 gallons water) by the nurse before being carried through the house or handled by another person. They may be soaked in the fluid for an hour and then placed in boiling water for boiling. It is better not to use handkerchiefs for cleansing the nostrils and mouth of the patient, but rather soft rags, which should be immediately thereafter burned. All vessels for receiving the discharges of the patient should constantly contain some disinfecting fluid. Water closets and privies in the house should be disinfected daily with a solution of copperas, two pounds to a gallon of water. Every kind and source of filth in and around the house should be thoroughly removed, and disinfectants freely used. Cleanliness tends both to prevent and mitigate the disease. Drains should be put in perfect order and ventilated by a four-inch straight pipe extended above the highest point of the roof of the house in ever instance, terminating at a distance from any chimney or other ventilator. Children in the family should not attend school or mingle with other children until the patient has wholly recovered, and all infected articles have been disinfected.

On the recovery or death of the patient the most thorough disinfection should follow. The room and all articles in it should be at once subjected to the fumes of burning sulphur as follows: Close the room tightly and burn 2½ pounds of sulphur to each thousand cubic feet of space. After four or six hours open the room and expose it to the air and sunlight for a week. Anything that can be boiled without injury may be so treated. The walls and ceiling should be dry rubbed or lime washed, and the floors washed with soap and water, to which may be added a little carbolic acid. When death occurs the body should be immediately placed in the coffin, with disinfectants, and the coffin tightly and finally closed. No public funeral should ever take place at the house where the patient died, or elsewhere, unless the coffin remains hermetically sealed.

MAKING A PRESIDENT.

We are now making a President and, unless our man is elected, the country is gone. Any man who is not the nominee of our party is a traitor and a scoundrel. This a fair sample of the nonsense that sensible people must listen to for the next four months to come. For one, we do not believe that this country is dependent upon any one man and its party for existence. And after our man is elected or defeated, the country will move along about the same as it has always done. Just how long sensible people will permit those gallant party leaders to deceive them with such hosh, we are unable to say, but we trust the time is near at hand when men will shake off the party shackles and show their Independence. If our man is not elected it won't be our fault, but we don't believe the salvation of the country depends upon his or either of the other candidates success.

It is said to be the practice of some sharpers to buy mutilated coins in New York at a discount of ten per cent. and pay them out in the rural towns at par, making a nice little sum by it.

In Australia a man who committed a murder was staked down by lynchers near an ant-hill, where he was eaten alive by the ants. If Molly Magurism is revived, it will be the duty of Pennsylvania to import some Australian ants.

General Grant has been elected President of the San Pedro and Canon De Laguna Company which owns 40,000 acres of land in New Mexico, including copper and gold mines. Boston and New York capitalists are largely interested.

The national board of health have received a dispatch saying that for the week ending July 16th, there were seventy-four deaths from yellow fever in the city of Havana. There were probably two hundred cases of yellow fever in the city and suburbs.

It may not be generally known that the city of New York is in the sheep raising business, but such is the case. Every year lambs from the flock of 80 highbred south-downs at Central park are sold for breeding, and shipped to all parts of the United States. To keep the stock good bucks are imported every two years from Europe.

A law obligating physicians to file their name, place of residence, and authority for practicing medicine, with the county clerk of the county he resides in, on or before the first day of October, 1880, is in the judgment of most people a very wise one, as it will aid in ferreting out all "Quacks" and "Philadelphia bought Diplomats," who are doing business in this State.

The crown of William Penn's hat which is to adorn his thirty-six foot statue surmounting the lofty tower of the new Philadelphia public buildings, will be just five hundred and thirty-five feet from the pavement. The highest towers which have yet been constructed are those of the Cologne cathedral, which have at present a height of five hundred and twenty-four feet eleven inches.

The State Department has received information that the vessel which recently fired upon two American schooners in Cuban waters was the Canto, a small screw steamer belonging to the Spanish navy. No formal presentation of the case will be made to the Spanish Government until the report of Admiral Wyman, who has been ordered with the Tennessee to Havana, has been received.

A terrible steamboat collision occurred at about ten o'clock on the evening of July 22nd, on the Detroit River, nine miles below Detroit city. The steamer Garland, with 1,200 excursionists on board, ran into the steam-yacht Mamie, cutting her into, so that she instantly sank. The Mamie had on board twenty-four persons consisting principally of the pastor of the Trinity Catholic Church of Detroit and his family, together with his choir and other boys who were invited to accompany them.

Most of them perished. It was a bright moonlight night and there seems to be no reasonable excuse for the collision.

James Willington, twelve years old, started from Chicago for the plains to hunt scalps. He reached St. Louis, but the police arrested him as he was wandering through the streets, with his rifle on his shoulder, looking for his dusky foes. When he was searched, previous to being locked up, the police found $248.26 in money, a railroad ticket from Chicago to Council Bluffs, six boxes of cartridges and several hundred loose ones, a heavy slung shot, a Nero No. 32 revolver, a Fender No. 22 pistol, a long-bladed knife, some powder, some buckshot, some wadding and a number of caps.

The largest pump factory in the world is said to be that of the Southern Pump Company at East Nashville, Tenn., where a complete pump is turned out every two minutes. Their works cover 14 acres and employ 225.

WOMAN'S TRIUMPH.

A Severe Surgical Operation. It is Endured without taking Ether. Subject, Mrs. Edward Myers, of Rondout, N. Y.

The case of Mrs. Edward Myers, of Rondout, New York, furnishes an apt illustration of woman's power of endurance. This lady had been treated for months in the usual way for Erysipelas of the head, without benefit. Not until her hand had become a mass of putrid flesh, did she turn to Dr. Kennedy, proprietor of the "Favorite Remedy," for help.

He at once informed her that it was impossible to save the hand—it must be amputated. She received this terrible intelligence quietly, declined to take ether, stipulating merely to hold her husband's hand during the operation, and underwent the painful process without moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy gave "Favorite Remedy" freely to cleanse the blood and prevent the return of the disease, and Mrs. Myers now lives and rejoices in her great deliverance.

"Favorite Remedy" is fast becoming a trusted household friend in all cases of Female Weakness and diseases of the blood. One dollar a bottle. Your druggist has it.

Fine Rain.
—Keep off the grass.
—Who stole Orvas umbrella.
—Abram L. Haines, of Fulton, is to teach our village school.
—Save money by buying boots and shoes of W. E. Bassler, Middleburgh.
—It will take a pretty heavy frost to kill the speech crop that is coming on now.
—An exchange says these are the days when a fellow feels like doing nothing and keeping at it.
—If you are in need of "good understandings," buy your boots and shoes of Bassler, at Middleburgh.
—Louie has abandoned the idea of learning the Carpenter trade, and has gone into the Cooper business.
—Five dollars given for U. S. dollars, dated 1804, and $1.00 for 5 cent silver coins of 1802. Must be in good condition.
—As repairs were being made in the M. E. Church, the Reform Church was opened last Sunday evening for Methodist service.
—Mrs. E. P. Richtmyer, Gilboa, has a large assortment of Hats, Gloves, Shawls, Ulsters, Ties, and is now ready for the Picnic season.
—The town Sunday School convention will be held in the Reform Church of this village, on the afternoon and evening of August 11th.
—If a man's religion compels him to pay his debts you may be sure it's genuine. If it does not have that effect you can doubt its genuineness.
—The Methodist will hold a camp-meeting at Steven's Grove, near this village, about the first of September. Full particulars will be given in due time.
—Luman Mattice, a much respected young man of Shew Hollow, this town, was taken to the Utica Asylum on Monday. He has been a subject of insanity in a mild form for several months, but recently became unmanageable and tried to kill his mother. Mattice is a young man of education, and was class-leader in the Shew Hollow M. E. Church. His insanity was caused by Bible studying.
—Ralph Bingham, the boy orator, will lecture in the M. E. Church, Thursday evening, August 5th. The Cornet Band will be in attendance, and ice cream and other refreshments will be served in the Church yard. This entertainment and festival is for the benefit of the Church, and will be one of the grandest festivities of the season. Be sure and hear the nine-year-old boy who is a rival orator of Patrick Henry and Daniel Webster.
ARRIVALS:—At Mrs. E. P. Richtmyer's, C. E. Lackey, wife and daughter, of Brooklyn.
At D. Hitchcock's, E. Palmer and wife, of Philadelphia.
At A. G. Baldwin's, Miss Anna V. Cooper, of Kingston.

Here and There.

—Miss Nellie Graham, of Oak Hill, is employed in the Census Bureau at Washington, D. C.
—Cobleskill has had the benefit of a temperance lecture every two weeks for the past two years.
—A bantam hen belonging to B. F. Conkling of Catskill, has hatched a fine brood of quails.
—A smash up of two freight trains at Howe's Cave the other night cost the Company some $30,000.
—Congressman Lounsbury has been notified that it will be his privilege to appoint a cadet to the West Point Academy from his district.
—Stamford has a hundred and fifty city visitors and could have a thousand if there were accommodations for them. New York parties are talking of building a $30,000 boarding house at this place.
—Dr. Kennedy of Rondout, was agreeably surprised the other day when the American Express Company's agent delivered to him a valuable thirty-day office clock with an alarm attachments, the gift of a grateful patient living in an adjoining state.
—Three new Pullman sleepers have been placed on the A. & S. R. R., and no change is now made at Albany, the cars going thro' to Boston. Passenger travel between Boston and the West via the A. & S. line is increasing rapidly, and is well liked.
—M. F. Murray, an enumerator in Yonkers, sent in his report, and his book was covered with blood and mud. On a piece of paper which he pinned to the back was the following: "This is insignificant to the mark I received on my face no more census enumerator for me."
—The poor printer, struggling heroically with the hard problem of life finds many incentives to honest endeavor, but rarely one so soul-inspiring as the spectacle of a five-hundred dollar piano being moved into the house of a man he has been for months vainly endeavoring to collect a $1.25 bill of.
—Richmondville Democrat.
—A Port Jervis printer went swimming the other day, leaving his clothes on a hollow stump. When he went to dress himself he was attacked by yellow jackets, whose nest he had disturbed, and he had to take to the water again. After several vain attempts to secure his clothing by stealth, he finally fished them off the stump with a pole and line.
—Allens great Eastern Circus came to grief at Oneonta and the whole concern, including tent, wagons, horses, &c., were sold to Mr. A. C. Lewis and Morrell Potter, hotel proprietors at that place. It is reported that the twelve performing thoroughbreds were sold for about $7,000. The side show passed through this place last Tuesday on its way to join another circus at Albany.—Herald.
—The Lockport Journal tells this one: It was dinner time in a select boarding house when the new boarder arrived. He was a venerable looking gentleman with silver hair and his face beamed with a sweet repose, betokening a pure and holy life. As he joined the table the landlady said "would you ask a blessing, sir?" The venerable stranger shouted, "you will have to talk louder marm, I'm so d-d deaf."
—A touching incident transpired at the depot on Wednesday evening, when the fresh air children started for their homes in New York city. Among the lot was a ten year-old boy, a son of a widowed mother, who is scarcely able to furnish the plainest and most scanty food. This lad was quartered with David Mickle, of Mineral Springs. He desired to stay, and when the cars stopped instead of going with the rest he bolted and started on a run from the depot. The gentlemen in charge and others caught him. It required the strength of two men to put and keep him aboard the cars. His stout protest against returning and his earnest plea to remain formed a touching scene that moved many to tears.—Index.
—At Rensselaerville about one o'clock on Thursday morning last some young people who had been attending a party discovered that Tanner's grist mill was on fire. They gave an immediate alarm and although the pail brigade—for which Rensselaerville has so long been famous—were promptly on hand the fire had gained so much headway that it was impossible to save the building and the attention of all was given to the saving of adjoining property. Within a few feet of the grist mill was P. Becker's carriage factory and blacksmith shop, and C. Oswald's wagon shop, and joined on the same building E. Hall's blacksmith shop, the upper part of which was occupied by A. Van Wie, as a paint shop. Every effort was made to prevent the spread of the fire to these buildings, but it was unavailing and they were totally destroyed together with much of their contents. Mr. Hall's house, and other residences in close proximity to the fire were in great danger and were only saved by a providential change of the light wind that was blowing, and by hard work. The entire loss is estimated at $10,000 and no insurance except a policy held by Mr. Becker of $500 on building and $500 on stock. The origin of the fire was unquestionably the work of an incendiary, and probably the same one who some months since made an attempt to burn a building situated in the heart of the village, which attempt if it had been successful would have caused the destruction of the larger part of the town.—Local.

Potters Hollow Items.

—Robert Brownell, having purchased the Pierce lot, over the creek, has his timber all framed, and now digging the cellar, and will soon erect a fine dwelling.
—The Prestons Hollow Cornet Band, on Tuesday evening, gave a free concert and serenaded at the Cooksbury House. After, which nine hosts of this hotel invited the boys to a bounteous supper.
—H. T. Devereux has just cleaned his crop of wheat, having 130 bushels, while G. C. Hubbard had about 100 bushels. Wheat is about the best crop in this section.
ARRIVALS at the Murphy House.—Mrs. John Starin, Thos. Willie, John Starin, N. B. Chapman, and Mr. Butter, Albany. At Levi Cony's, Mrs. Charles Beatty, Springfield, Mass.
—It seems as if Rob Brownell's darby pony must have a race through our streets every two weeks in order to raise a rumpus. On Thursday while he was drawing polls with her, she ran away and as she entered Main Street, near the M. E. Church, a gentleman seeing her coming for him on a bee line took to the cemetery until the crazy beast had passed. After raking the streets for half a mile she lost steam and halted, but not until the entire citizens of the two wards had been seared to death. Some supposed it to be an escaped Rocky Mountain horse from the London circus, and others thought it might be a Sea Lion.

—We were surprised as well as pleased to notice among our Sabbath School scholars last Sabbath the smiling phiz of Cyrus Benjamin and Frank Stillwell, of the Delaware Chemical Works.
—No inconsiderable excitement was occasioned by the announcement that a regular, raging, rolicking, royal Bengal tiger was in this vicinity; for the people had heard his awful roar. People of all distresses immediately flew to arms, bound to wipe that terrible noise from the face of the earth. But imagine their surprise when, seated under a large beech, his cheeks distended, his chin elevated at an angle of 45 degrees, his bony hands clinched around that horn, they found Hiram rasping away on that beautiful quick-dedicated to Garfield. —The funeral of Mrs. Kimber Patrie was held on Monday last at Flat Creek. Rev. J. B. Vanhosen delivered the sermon.
—The Livingstonville correspondent had better devote himself to other matters than meddling. It is a poor business, and leads to lying if followed up. Doc.

Prattsville.

—A son of Maj. Gen. Schofield, commander of West Point, has been spending a few days in town.
—There are at present between 300. and 350 boarders stopping at the several boarding houses in this vicinity.

—Straw rides are in order and pleasure parties may be seen daily riding through our village, seated upon loads of hay, blowing tin horns, and making unearthly noises.
—We wish it distinctly understood that a printing-office is no place for people to sit down and gossip with the compositor. If they desire to talk with the boys do so after working hours. We mean no offense but that sort of thing is "played out."—News.
—A Breakabean lad is seventeen years old, and says he has never yet thought of having a girl.
—Abe, never interfere with Sid's pleasure unless you are sure of not getting beat. H

Treatment of the Sunstroke.

In case of sunstroke, loosen the patient's clothes and bathe the head and entire body with cool water, and with moistened hands rub the extremities, the neck, and the whole length of the spine, rubbing in a downward direction to draw blood from the head. As soon as boiling water can be obtained, put a dry blanket round the body, then wring flannels from the hot water and apply them quickly to the region of the stomach, liver, bowels and spine, over the blanket; also, immerse the feet in hot water, or wrap them in hot flannels as far as the body. Rewring the flannels once in every five or eight minutes for half an hour or more, then remove them and apply cold water in the same way, either by cool towels or sponging with cool water; dry well and rub the surface lightly and briskly with the hand until a glow is produced. As soon as the patient can swallow give him hot water to drink, plenty of it with occasional bits of ice or sips of cold water. Often, of course, the attack is so slight that so thorough treatment is not necessary.

Bogus Medical Certificates.

We have received a copy of the Philadelphia Recorder, containing a complete exposure of the now infamous John Buchanan and his bogus medical colleges, with minute information how to detect bogus certificates. There are over 11,000 of these certificates in different parts of the world, but principally in the United States. Among a list of those who have received express packages from John Buchanan, we find the following, with the year they were sent:
1878. Dr. W. E. Bokes, Catskill, N. Y.
1877. Dr. J. H. Norwood, Cooksbury, N. Y.
1880. T. P. Ostrander, Rondout, N. Y.
1880. Geo. E. Patton, Chatham Village, N. Y.
1880. Dr. Geo. Hill, Richmondville, N. Y.
It is claimed that with but few exceptions these packages contained bogus certificates. The names to which they were shipped to this village are either fictitious, or else the parties are non residents.—Catskill Mail.
Dr. J. Norwood, of Frattin Hollow, has, without a doubt, a first-class legal diploma, and is a full-fledged M. D. of no little skill and ability.

No, SIR?—A Scotch minister once said no woman could bear pain as well as a man. That is not so. The fact is generally the other way. Mrs. Edward Meyers, of Rondout, N. Y., submitted to the operation of the removal of her hand by amputation, with out taking ether, or moving a muscle or uttering a groan. Dr. Kennedy, also of Rondout, N. Y., who performed the operation, said he never saw such heroism. The lady's disease was erysipelas, and afterwards the Doctor gave his Favorite Remedy to clear the blood. Mrs. Meyers is now well and strong. Favorite Remedy at One Dollar a Bottle is the thing for Female Weaknesses and all complaints arising from bad blood. But that Scotchman was mistaken.

There is a mad doctor named Tanner, Who hoisted the starvation banner;
The first thing he knows He'll turn up his toes,
And that's what's the matter with Hannah

Mrs. D. E. DONOVAN—Madam:
I have refrained from writing until now, that I might report to you a complete cure in my case. For some months the pains in my shoulders were so great that I was utterly helpless; by the use of one-half bottle of your wonderful medicine I was completely cured; therefore I wish the public to give it a trial, and I am sure they will have cause to feel grateful to the discoverer.
MRS. C. McNAMEE, Kingston, N. Y.

—There is no doubt but that the business revival has at last reached the back towns. A Greene county man tacked a card upon his store door which read as follows. "Gone to wife's funeral. Be back in thirty minutes!"

We have much pleasure in recommending Thermanine to our readers, as an absolute cure for Malaria. The manufacturers' name alone is a guarantee of its merit. It sells at 25 cents per box. For particulars see Advt. For sale by J. M. Hazard.

—A little five-year-old boy, who had seen a peacock for the first time, ran into the house exclaiming to his sister, "Oh, Lizzie! I've seen a great, great, big, monstrous tall, walking round with a hen tied to it!"

The medicines of DUNN'S DICK & Co. are unequalled for elegance, purity, and reliability. Their Seidlittine Seidlitz Powders, are as pleasant as Lemonade. Their Soft Capsules are world famous. See Advt. For sale by J. M. Hazard.

—A Rockford girl had her corset torn off by a stroke of lightning, and was uninjured, but a young man who called to borrow a book, had his right arm shattered and a piece of corset steel blown into his liver. He said he didn't know she was loaded.

During the heavy shower last Wednesday afternoon, the barn of Jesse G. Wood, near Sugar Loaf, was struck by lightning. The curious and significant part of the thing is the fact that the bolt struck the peak of the barn just two feet from the lightning rod!

"Its Effect Like a Miracle."

HIGHGATE, Vt., Sept. 16th.

A year ago last March I was taken with severe rheumatic pains, which, changing from one place to another, finally settled in my loins, the disease constantly increasing in severity. Past midsummer all efforts to obtain relief had failed—my appetite gone, my flesh wasting away and not able to walk a step but with the greatest difficulty. I told my friends that I should not live to see the snow fly again. In this condition I was persuaded by a neighbor to try one more medicine—the Kidney-Wort. Its effect was like a miracle. I soon began to recover the use of my limbs, my appetite and strength returned, and on the fifth day (the last of June) with less than half a package of Kidney-Wort used, I went to my hay field to work; and continued to labor through the season. I will add, that, as a tonic, my wife and self have found the Kidney-Wort to be very useful, and I take great pleasure in commending the medicine as invaluable.

When spelling is 'reformed' she'll write: "I'm sailing on the oshun, The se is hi, no sail in site, It fliz me with emoshun." But one spell will not change its name, For she'll be se-sic just the same.

Good Words for Good Thing.

The papers are so full of exaggerations about all sorts of things that it is hard to tell what to believe. Yet all things are not humbugs, nor are all statements lies. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is exactly what it claims to be, and deserves the praises that are showered upon it from all who have used it. Hear a word from Mr. Israel H. Snyder, of Saugerties, N. Y. He says: "My little daughter was covered with Salt Rheum from head to foot. Favorite Remedy cured her altogether, and the disease has never since appeared. This was two years ago." Such words go to the point. Get Favorite Remedy of your druggist or write to the Doctor at Rondout, N. Y.

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 Vols., over 16,000 pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution.

THE LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the greatest Encyclopædia in the field.

Specimen Volumes in either style will be sent for examination with privilege to return on receipt of proportionate price per volume. Special Discounts to all early subscribers, and extra discounts to clubs. Full particulars with descriptive catalogue of many other standard works equally low in price sent free.

- Leading principals of the American Book Exchange: I. Publish only books of real value. II. Work upon the basis of present cost of making books, about one half what it was a few years ago. III. Sell to buyers direct, and save them 50 or 60 per cent commission commonly allowed to dealers. IV. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity. V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and greatly add to their cost, but not to their value. VI. To make $1 and a friend is better than to make $5 and an enemy.

Why suffer Bilious pains and aches? Why torment your diseased Kidneys? Why endure nervous or sick headaches? Why have sleepless nights? The KIDNEY WORT and restores to health. It is a dry, vegetable compound and one package will make six quarts of Medicine. Get it of your Druggist, he will order it for you. Price, $1.00. WELLS, RICHARDS & CO., Proprietors. (Will send post paid.)

RHEUMATISM.

The cause of this torturing ailment is an excess of Uric Acid in the blood. There are two forms of it—Acute or Inflammatory and Chronic—and, as it is liable in its advanced stage to attack the heart, it cannot be regarded otherwise than as one of the most dangerous of maladies. The surest means of getting rid of this acid is by using an ALKALINE DISSOLVER. This can be done in no better way than by using DONOVAN'S RHEUMATIC CURE, the only dissolver of Uric Acid which exists in all Rheumatic patients. It not only affords temporary relief, but effects a PERMANENT CURE. It can be had of any druggist. It is an INTERNAL REMEDY, and sold at one dollar for a large 8 oz. bottle.

DONOVAN'S RHEUMATIC CURE.

A sure cure for Rheumatism and Gout. The pains of Neuralgia yield quickly to its influence. This is an Internal Remedy acting directly upon the blood, and speedily eliminates from the system all forms of Chronic, Acute and Inflammatory Rheumatism. It was first prepared in 1860, since which time it has proven itself invaluable not only in alleviating but effecting a radical cure. To further prove the claims this article has upon the public we could add certificates from many persons in this city, but space will not permit. Ask your druggist of persons who have been cured by its use.

It is a purely vegetable preparation, having a delightful taste and smell. Sold by all druggists at ONE DOLLAR a bottle (large 8 oz.) or sent to any address when ordered. Manufactured by the Donovan Rheumatic Cure Co., Kingston, N. Y.

DR. BARBER'S INHALER IN OPERATION.

The above picture plainly shows how Dr. Barber's Inhaler acts. It is the first and only perfect Inhaler ever invented. Other vapor-making Inhalers carry the vapor in a crude and objectionable state to the breathing apparatus. Dr. Barber's Inhaler washes it free from all unwholesome particles through pure water making it a faultless inhaling instrument.

CATARH

Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, and other diseases of the air passages of Nose, Throat and Lungs, can be reached only by Inhalation. Dr. Barber's Inhaler carries healing vapor direct to the sore and inflamed surfaces, and searches out the very seat of your trouble. It is a complete treatment in itself—not a quick device for luring the sufferer to buy a batch of high-priced "secret" nostrums. All intelligent physicians use and recommend Dr. Barber's Inhaler. It cures Catarrh in all stages. It cures Bronchitis, Bronchitis, Emaciation, Coughs, Colds, Hemorrhages and all lung and constitutional complaints.

The ONLY TRUE WAY TO CURE all diseases of the breathing apparatus. It is the cheapest radical and complete treatment ever known.

Druggists sell Dr. Barber's Inhaler. We have local agents in nearly every town; but sufferers who have been deceived by delusive advertisements will please SEND US A POSTAL CARD FOR FULL DESCRIPTION OF THIS TREATMENT. It is a great discovery; to know all about it costs you only a postal card. Give address plainly, and name of paper containing this notice. Address the sole manufacturers, BRENT GOOD & CO., New York City.

WILLSON'S CARBOLATED (Norwegian)

Is retained by the Weakest Stomach. Is Free from Unpleasant Taste. Arrests Decay. Never gets Manicid. It cures Consumption, Scrophula, Asthma, Bronchitis, Emaciation, Coughs, Colds, Hemorrhages and all lung and constitutional complaints. As a Blood Purifier the Carbolated Oil is remarkably efficient. Its use in Scrophulous Affections, Rheumatism, &c., is strongly recommended. Its purifying power is wonderful in Consumption, depending, as it frequently does, upon scrophulous taint. It acts upon the rational theory of IMMEDIATELY ARRESTING DECAY WHILE IT BUILDS UP THE SYSTEM, enabling it to throw off the disease.
